

Police probe death of driver in Lagos

By Jude Isiguzo

THE Police in Lagos are investigating the death of an inter-state bus driver at Ojota.

The driver with A.U Motors was found dead Saturday morning under the Ojota bridge on Ikorodu Expressway where he had gone to ease himself barely minutes after he excused himself from passengers in his bus, which was being loaded for a trip to Ontisha.

The late Pastor Osadud Ghel had returned from a trip to Edo State Friday evening.

His colleague who wanted to move his bus away from a spot, could not because Ghel's bus at the Ojota park, marked EX 804 SUD was blocking him, warranting a search for the deceased.

It was during the search that one of the drivers at the park told the colleague that Ghel went under the bridge to ease himself.

He was found dead.
