A WOMAN was killed at the weekend following renewed skirmish in Gbe and Bodo communities in Gokana Local Government Area of Ogoniland, Rivers State.

Mrs Amba Emmababari, was alleged to have been beheaded in a farmland between Gbe and Bodo communities by suspected cultists.

Emmababari, (60) and a mother of six, was believed to have been killed by suspected members of rival cult group.

Following her death, members of the rival Degbam cult group have stormed her Bodo community in search of her killers.
