

Son kills father over N100 telephone card

THE Police in Lokoja, the Kogi State capital have detained a 25-year-old graduate

- for allegedly killing his father, Mallam Usman Mustafa, over a N100 recharge card.

The incident occurred at the weekend at Michael Olabayo Housing Estate, Lokoja.

Sources said the son had allegedly asked for N100 to buy a recharge card but his father told him to wait till he finished cutting the grass around his house.

The sources said the deceased then went into his room for a cutlass for the exercise but his son followed him.

According to the sources, the unsuspecting father handed the cutlass to his son who had offered to assist him cut the grass.

He then allegedly hacked his father to death with the cutlass.

The step-mother of the suspect, Mrs. Hajarat Mustafa, told reporters that he locked the door of the room before killing his father.