A POLICE officer with his expectant wife were feared dead in a road crash in Ondo yesterday.

The incident, which occurred at about 1:00p.m., involved a motorcycle and a truck around Surulere.

According to an eyewitness, the Police Constable, Mr Arighaye Feran and his wife were heading in the opposite direction when the truck lost control.

The truck skidded off its lane and crashed into the motorcycle.

An eyewitness said the uniformed police officer died on the spot.

His expectant wife was rushed to the Specialist Hospital, Ondo. But she was said to have died at the Accident and Emergency Unit while receiving treatment.
