

Imo police kill kidnap suspect

THE Imo State Police Command has killed one kidnap suspect and arrested three others.

Commissioner of Police (CP) Aloysius Okorie told reporters in Owerri, the state capital, that the suspects are Chukwu Dozie Obi, Amobi Paul and Osita Ejikeme.

The dead kidnapper is Okoro Crescent.

He said the suspects kidnapped former Commissioner for Health Vin Udokwu on September 3 and Mr. John Anozie of Umunze Initiative on August 31.

According to him, policemen yesterday trailed the kidnappers to a building in Egbema Ozubulu in Anambra State. The hoodlums opened fire.

A 75 year old man, Mr. John Anozie, and two other victims, Mr. Okechukwu Ezeani and Mrs. Chinwe Okonkwo were rescued.

Among items recovered from the suspects were a cheque and a Honda motorcycle.

Chief Augustine Anozie, the son of the 75-year-old man rescued from the suspects, urged the police to keep up the good work.

Obi inaugurates 40 buses

From Nwanosike Onu, Awka

GOVERNOR Peter Obi yesterday inaugurated 40 buses belonging to Anambra State Integrated Development Strategy (ANIDS).

The company has acquired 80 buses and 85 taxis in two years.

Obi urged other organisations to emulate ANIDS.

He said the gesture would improve the state's internally generated revenue.
