

Imo gets ASUU strike panel

From Emma Mgbeahurike, Owerri

THE Imo State House of Assembly has set up a committee on the strike by the Academic Staff Union of Universities (ASUU) in the Southeast.

Speaker Goodluck Opiah said the committee would liaise with stakeholders on how to resolve the dispute.

The five-man committee, headed by Nze Ray Emeana, is to submit its report on November 3.

security operatives to enforce the levies it had imposed on commercial cyclists plying the market.

Eyewitnesses said a trader and two cyclists were shot dead by the security operatives during a protest by traders and the cyclists to resist the levies.

Thirty nine persons, including some security operatives, sustained injuries and were taken to nearby hospitals.

The Chairman of traders in the state, Chief Okwudili Ezenwakwo, however confirmed only one death.

Police spokesman Emeka Chukwuemeka confirmed the clash.
