

Two customers killed in Rivers robbery

A GANG of four robbers yesterday attacked Bonbecco Peak Milk Depot, at 6, Emenike Street, Mile One, Port Harcourt, Rivers State, killing two customers, Obinna Marcel and Onyeka.

The hoodlums also shot the security man, Umaru Adamu, and made away with N120,000.

A lecturer of the Rivers State University of Science

• Kidnapped teacher found dead

From Bisi Olaniyi, Port Harcourt and Technology (RSUST), Port Harcourt, Mr. Joseph Barifaa Pango, was yesterday found dead in the boot of his car.

Pango, a Gokana Local Government chairmanship aspirant, was abducted by unknown gunmen on Tuesday at Barobara, near Kira-Ogoni, in Tai Local Government Area.

His car was discovered in a bush on Afam-Ukwu Road, between Tai and Oyigbo Local Governments.

Sources said Marcel and Onyeka went to the depot to transact business, but were accosted by the robbers.

The hoodlums attempted to dispossess the duo of their money. This led to a scuffle, leading to their being shot.

Police spokesman Akin Fakorede confirmed the killings. He said the command had commenced investigation and begun a manhunt for the hoodlums.

Fakorede, while also confirming the murder of Pango, said detectives found the deceased in the boot of his car.