Three persons are feared dead in clashes between rival cult groups at the Moshood Abiola Polytechnic (MAPOLY), Abeokuta, the Ogun State capital.

It was learnt that on Tuesday afternoon, members of a cult group stormed the campus and started shooting indiscriminately.

They were said to have killed a suspected member of the Eiye Confraternity at Adigbe.

This, it was gathered, led to a reprisal attack yesterday, in which two students were killed at Oluwo.

There is panic among residents of Oluwo, Onikolobo, Adigbe, Oloke, Ibara, Panseke and other communities around the school. Many students have fled the campus.

But Police spokesman Olumuyiwa Adejobi said he was aware of the death of one person.

He said: "We heard the deceased was either a yahoo guy or a cult member. What is certain is that the two groups are devilish and the police have swung into action to restore normalcy in the areas.”
