

Prado Jeep.
The accident was said to have occurred around Nsit Atai Local Government Area.
Eyewitnesses said Asuquo negotiated a bend that made the vehicle ram into another particular and Nigeria in general.

Akpabio assured the deceased's family they were in his thoughts and prayed to God to give them the fortitude to bear the irreparable loss.

Woman arrested for killing mum

A SINGLE lady in her late thirties identified as Bolanle Abiola has been arrested by the police in connection with the murder of her 70-year-mother in Imeko-Afon Local Government Area of Ogun State.

Also arrested is a young man believed to have rendered a helping hand in the gruesome killing of the aged woman in her residence in Pedepo area of Imeko.

The duo allegedly committed the crime around 9pm last Wednesday under cover of heavy downpours.

It was not yet clear why Bolanle, the third of six siblings, decided to take the life of her mother with the connivance of an unidentified suspected freelance assassin.

The Nation gathered that the suspect had blamed the deceased for being single at 38.

It was gathered further that the lady - suspect who runs a petty boutique in Abeokuta, the Ogun State capital, had equally threatened to make life uncomfort-

Ernest Nwokolo, Abeokuta able for the deceased if she failed to let her be.

On the fateful day, Bolanle and her accomplice were said to have left Abeokuta for Pedepo in Imeko and the deceased had welcome the duo, thinking Bolanle has finally come home with her would-be-husband.

But around 9pm while there was heavy rain in the community, Bolanle and her accomplice allegedly killed the mother while she was preparing to go to bed.

A source in the community said Bolanle was arrested the following day while attempting to flee in a commercial vehicle while the accomplice was arrested by local vigilance group and handed over to the police in Imeko.

The state Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO), Mr. Muyiwa Adejobi, could not be reached yesterday for reactions.

But a police source said Bolanle had confessed to killing her mother.

00 others dump PDP for ACN in in men who lack the discipline and the character for effectively ted works of development that the ACN is doing in the state