

Two dead in Kwara cult clash

From Adekunle Jimoh,
Ilorin

SUSPECTED cultists have allegedly hacked two men to death in Ilorin, the Kwara state capital.

The incident occurred in the wee hours of yesterday. It threw residents of the area close to the Kwara State Polytechnic into mourning.

Two unnamed cult groups clashed on Wednesday night till yesterday, leading to the death of the two people.

Police spokesperson Mr. Fabode Olufemi, said the rival cult groups were said to be from the Polytechnic.

"It was surprising that two dead bodies were discovered in a bush yesterday morning.

"One was beheaded while the other was not."

He said that the bodies had been deposited at a mortuary, adding that investigation had begun.

Spokesman of Kwara Polytechnic Yunus Abdulkadir denied that students of the school were involved in the killing.

Benin menereh