

Today

7

and traffic diver-

There will be three at the bridge at Oworonshoki
interchange.

carried out in
for limited access to motorists going
will have under the bridge behind 12noon behind more traffic
Island during the moving to-
will be diverted

At 12 midnight,
towards the maintained access to the moving to-
be diverted to
and Muritala

Jekayinjesu
t. With them
ba Oluronke
ye; and Hon.

n

the arrest was

Mother of four beheaded in Ekiti

■ Sulaiman SALAWUDEEN, ■
Ado Ekiti

ARAMOKO-Ekiti in the Ekiti West Local Government Area, Ekiti State was a theatre of disaster Thursday morning when a mother of four was beheaded on the farm in the town.

Mrs. Bose Edijana Lucky was discovered murdered on the footpath which leads to the farm of her husband, Mr. Nnaefenwa Lucky, around 9:30am.

The incident was believed to have happened when the woman was taking food to her husband who was working on the farm.

Chief Samuel Okorefe, the chairman, Urhobo Community in Aramoko-Ekiti, told newsmen at his residence at the Amututu area of the town that he was contacted on the phone that a serious incident had happened which forced him to come home.

He explained that the victim was said to have gone to the market in the morning to buy condiments to prepare soup and after she had cooked food, she headed for her husband's farm to give him food.

Shortly after Bose had gone to the farm, her husband was said to have come to town calling for help, informing other Urhobo natives that his wife had been beheaded by some unknown people suspected to be ritualists.

The community leader with other elders went directly to the palace of Alara of Aramoko, Oba Olu Adeyemi, and reported the matter.

They informed the police and a team of policemen drove to the scene of the incident and removed the remains of the victim.

The cops were shocked to discover that the head, neck and arms had been cut off.

The husband was taken to the police station where he made a statement.

He was later detained.

Fake DSP nabbed in Lagos

■ Ebele BONIFACE ■