Police kill suspected kidnappers in Zamfara

Posted by: Agency Reporter Posted date: October 15, 2012 In: News Update | comment : 4

The Police in Zamfara said two suspected members of a syndicate that specialised in kidnapping and trading in human parts have been killed during a raid on their hideout.

The state Commissioner of Police, Malam Usman Gwary, who stated this on Monday at a press briefing in Gusau, said a five-year-old girl was rescued in the raid.

Gwary said that two suspects were killed in a cross fire with the police along the Sokoto-Gusau highway.

He said the suspects were first intercepted as they were trying to negotiate the sale of the five-year-old girl in Zamfara.

The commissioner of police said that his men acted on a tip-off and laid ambush for the suspects at strategic points on the border between Zamfara and Sokoto States.

The News Agency of Nigeria reports that the suspected criminals abducted the child from a private school in Imo sometime last week.

Gwary said the girl was to be delivered for sale to another syndicate in Niger Republic through the Sokoto-Zamfara border.

He further said the police sourced N600,000 for a phony purchase deal, having been briefed that the syndicate usually collected between N500,000 and N1,000,000 as price tag for sale of their victim.
