Five policemen and two others were killed on Sunday by a 15-man gang in two robbery incidents in Ogun State.

Many others were critically injured.

It was learnt that the hoodlums attacked a filling station in Ibafo around 8.30pm, dressed in police uniforms.

They killed two policemen, who challenged them. A 12-year-old boy hawking sachet water, simply identified as Mubarak, was hit by a stray bullet.

Sources said he died immediately.

It was learnt that the robbers stole an undisclosed amount of money from the filling station.

At about 2.30am, the gang invaded the Vicarage of the Apostolic Church at Ijemo-Agbadu in Abeokuta, the state capital.

It was gathered that members of the gang laid ambush for the Police Quick Response Squad (QRS) which was responding to the residents' distress call, killing the driver of the patrol vehicle and two police inspectors.

Other members of the police team were injured.

Ogun police spokesman Olumuyiwa Adejobi said: "The gang snatched a Sports Utility Vehicle (SUV) and attacked a hotel on Abiola Wav before heading for the Apostolic Church Vicarage at Ijemo Agbadu where they killed three

In order not to be wasting our Police men in this country by hoodlums, let there be OPC or any form of community security like vigilante be working with the Nigeria police especially at mid- night.

Secondly,Federal Government should help the Nigeria police by extending or creating more stations to every Local Government because many of our communities that are suppose to have some sub police stations dont have

Thirdly,at night let there be police men at every junction of every main street with some vigilante or OPC so that if at all any distress call is made this will enable them to convinently

May the souls of the fallen heros rest in peace,our military men must be blame for any catastrophe the police might be facing now and in the nearest future,not untill when a reasonable structure/ good armoury are put in place for them like the military the underworld people will continue to dare them.

Do you see such a callous act by these robbers. Tomorrow if caught and sentenced to death as is the case now in Edo state, one useless group will rear its head as human rights organization to say they shouldn't be killed, all in the name of human rights, because these innocent people the robbers are killing have no human rights. God will help for the rest of the robbers on the run to be caught. If that happens, please don't kill them directly with a shot of the gun, but kill them through turture. Shatter a finger with hammer, wait for the next 3 days and shatter the next finger. Do this in succession and ensure you don't give them any food till they all die. Callousness should meet callousness. I commiserate with the police and especially the wives and children of those gallant officers who were killed. I pray that God gives you the fortitude to bear this act of wickedness, while praying also for the repose of the gallant officers' souls. Same goes for the innocent little boy, who hardship forced out to go sell pure water. May God almighty receive and grant you eternal rest and may your soul not let those robbers rest.
