Industrialist kidnapped in Osun

• Driver killed

From Adesoji Adeniyi,
Osogbo

GUNMEN have kidnapped the founder and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Yinka Oba Foam Nigeria Ltd., Mrs. Olayinka Obaleye, popularly called Yinka Oba.

The septuagenarian was abducted on Tuesday at the gate of her company at Ilo-Ijesha in Obokun Local Government Area around 7pm.

She was leaving for her home when the gunmen blocked her car with their vehicle and shot her driver, who died on the spot.

The hoodlums forced Mrs. Obaleye into their vehicle and took her away.

In the last two years, there have been over five kidnappings in Osogbo, Ejigbo, Ife and Ilesa, including those of two beer distributors, Alhaji Raifu Olaiya and the late Chief Idowu Obembe.

Olaiya was released after paying a huge ransom. Obembe's body was found over a year later, even though his family paid a ransom.

Police spokesperson Folasade Odoro said detectives were on the kidnappers' trail.
