

forward to the an-
exercise as it is of-
high financial gain.
who relies on pho-
as a means of live-
as been miserable
five months due to
used by the ASUU

five edge over the participating schools.

•The late Philips

STUDENTS and staff of the Olabisi Onabanjo University (OOU) in Ago-Iwoye, Ogun State were in mourning mood last week, following the death of a graduating student, Philips Kadiene Azubuike.

Philips, a student of Computer

the stakeholders'

OOU loses students

From Sanya Boluwatife

OOU

Science, was said to have died in an auto crash that occurred on Oru-Ijebu road.

Until his death, Philip was the Coordinator of the Nigerian Red Cross (NRC) in the university. He was also the technical coordinator of his fellowship.

Another student, Emmanuel Okonkwo, in the Faculty of Law has reportedly died. Speaking to CAMPUSLIFE, Femi Oyeniyi, a graduating student of Political Science, said: "It is unfortunate that we lost him. Azubuike was an easygoing fellow. He was nice person and always filled with fun."

College begins diploma