

Firm gives 1.04m to slain worker

THE management of Crunches Fried Chicken has given the family its late worker Mazi Christian Okoro, a cheque for N1.04m.

Okoro was killed by robbers in December last year during an operation at their Umuahia outlet.

Mazi Okoro, a security man on duty at Crunches Fried Chicken, Umuahia outlet lost his life during a robbery incident at the eatery on December 23, last year, leaving behind children and other relations.

Speaking while handing over the cheque to Kelechi and Nnenna two of the deceased's children, the managing director of Crunches Fried Chicken, Mazi Jude Nwosu recalled how committed to duty Mazi Okoro was while he worked in the outlet. He revealed that his late staff, until death, was never issued with any query.

From Sunny Nwankwo, Aba

Nwosu noted that although the amount would not bring back the dead to life, he it would go a long way in cushioning the effects of his demise on the family.

"Your father had a very excellent inter-personal working relationship with other workers in that all through his service years, he was never issued any query for misconduct."

While urging Crunches Fried Chicken family and others touched by the death of the late Okoro to draw their strength from God, Mazi Nwosu prayed God to give the children and members of their immediate family the fortitude to bear the irreparable loss.

The Human Resources Manager (HRM) of the firm, Mr. Tunde Afenokhai said Crunches Fried Chicken came up with such packages to assist relations of staff who died while on active service.

He urged children of the deceased to be prudent in their spending in order to achieve the purpose for which the money was meant.

Responding, Kelechi and Nnenna thanked management of the firm for the gesture which they said would assist the deceased's immediate family to overcome some of the problems they were encountering as a result of their father's death. They, however, promised not to be extravagant in their spending as the money would be judiciously used to achieve the purpose for which it was given.

• Mazi Jude Nwosu, MD Crunches Eatery