

THE LATEST

Man arraigned for ATM fraud

10 mins ago

Chibok abduction protesters to challenge ban in court

46 mins ago

NAFDAC certifies 50,000 products in 2013

1 hour ago

Indian minister dies in auto crash

4 hours ago

World Cup: Rangers 'unhappy' with Uzoenyi, Mba's exclusion

4 hours ago

Keshi releases Eagles World Cup list

9 hours ago

Borno has spent N10b on security in three years, says SSG

13 hours ago

Chibok schoolgirls: Outrage over police ban on protests

13 hours ago

Governor: girls to be back in schools in Lagos, Abuja

13 hours ago

Oyo NURTW chief Auxiliary charged with murder

13 hours ago

Home » News » Two killed in Ogun road accidents

 Sign up for your free online storefront on www.smemarkethub.com today.

marketHub

Securely Trade Bank go

Two killed in Ogun road accidents

Posted by: Ernest Nwokolo, Abeokuta in News 14 hours ago

Two people have died in two accidents on the Abeokuta-Sagamu expressway. Six others were critically injured.

The first accident occurred around 10:16am yesterday at Onipepeye. It involved a Mitsubishi Space Wagon marked LAGOS BDG 810 XK, coming from Lagos, and a Toyota Camry numbered LAGOS AAA 524 CW.

The Camry, which was going towards Sagamu, was said to have skidded off the road and collided with the Space Wagon, which was going to Abeokuta. Two passengers died on the spot.

Officials of the Federal Road Safety Commission (FRSC) and the Nigeria Security and Civil Defence Corp (NSCDC) were on the scene.

Head of the Rescue Team of the Traffic Compliance and Enforcement Agency (TRACE) Mr. Adeola Adekoya said one of the passengers, Mrs. Tope Akingbade, was trapped in one of the vehicles for some time.

Adekoya attributed the crash to speeding, adding that help did not get to the victims until about an hour later.

He said officials of the State Ambulance Service administered first aid on the victims before they were taken to the State Hospital in Ijaye, Abeokuta.

The second crash, a lone one, also occurred in Onipepeye, about 100 meters away from the scene of the first accident. It involved a BMW X5 Sport Utility Vehicle (SUV), numbered (LAGOS) KJA 595 AY.

One of the two occupants of the vehicle, who was critically injured, was taken to the State Hospital in Ijaye, Abeokuta.

CHANGE TEXT SIZE

STAY CONNECTED

MORE FROM NEWS

Keshi releases Eagles World Cup list

Borno has spent N10b on security in three years, says SSG

Chibok schoolgirls: Outrage over police ban on protests

Governor: girls to be back in schools in Lagos, Abuja

Oyo NURTW chief Auxiliary charged with murder Chibok girls... Parents' cries linger 50 days after

All APC presidential aspirants 'll get fair chance, says Fashola

 Boko Haram's actions against Islam, says OIC
 DHQ: we haven't seen new video on Chibok schoolgirls

24 killed in Borno separate attacks

GAME ON...
 Join the supporters and
SPREAD THE PASSION!

Email: ngservice@samsung.com
 Contact Center number: 0800 726 864 (0800SAMSUNG)