Two feared dead in Lagos clash

Posted by: Jude Isiguzo in News ⌚ 13 hours ago

Two Workers (NURTW) at a ceremony to mark the installation of two titled chiefs in Lagos.

Several others were reportedly injured and are in hospitals.

The installation of the two chiefs was in commemoration of the 10th anniversary of a traditional ruler.

The ceremony took a violent turn when a faction allegedly loyal to the leaders of an NURTW's branch fired in anger

The development reportedly marred the ceremony as guests ran away.

A policeman attempted to arrest the armed touts, but could not.

It was also learnt that some members of the rival faction reportedly stormed a union leader's residence in Ejigbo in two commercial buses, where they allegedly fired shots.

Eyewitnesses said it took the intervention of policemen from Ejigbo Division to disperse the invaders.

But Police sources said no life was lost, but hinted that one person was stabbed while another was hit with the butt of a gun.

Police Deputy Spokesperson, Lelma Kolle, an Assistant Superintendent (ASP), promised to get back to The Nation with the details on the incident.
