Robbers kill woman in Calabar

Posted by: Nicholas KALU, Calabar in News 2 days ago

DARE-DEVIL armed robbers struck yesterday morning along Egerton Street in Calabar, killing a woman. The deceased, said to be a fish seller, was shot in the wee hours of the morning in the Bay side vicinity, where a Bakassi chief was killed by suspected assassins a couple of weeks ago.

According to an eye witness, the robbers numbering about 10, stormed the area close to the Presbyterian Church and robbed about five houses. One of the victims, simply identified as Joseph, said there have been repeated armed robbery attacks in the last few weeks.

He said the robbers were armed with guns and machetes. Another resident of the area said, "The once peaceful Bayside is no longer safe. Armed robbers have taken over the whole area, stealing and maiming. It has become a daily occurrence here. We don't have police patrol here. We are now at the mercy of the thieves."
