

CITYBEATS LINE: 08078425391

Robbers kill man

By Jude Isiguzo

ROBBERS have killed a man in Ajegunle, Lagos, while attempting to dispossess him of his valuables.

The bandits numbering over 40, dispossessed other residents of cash and valuables.

It was gathered that the deceased ran into the hoodlums.

Residents said the hoodlums have been terrorising them every other Sunday night, with cutlasses, iron rods, axes and other dangerous weapons.

It was gathered that as soon as the gang arrived, the Divisional Police Officer (DPO) of Ajegunle, Abayomi Agbana, a Chief Superintendent (CSP), led a team of policemen to the scene.

Sources said upon sighting the police patrol vehicle, the hoodlums fled. Policemen took the body to the mortuary.

Last week, the police arrested three members of the gang.

Suspected kidnapper charged

By Amara Okoye

34-year-old man,