

NEWS COLUMNISTS POLITICS BUSINESS EDITORIAL SPORTS HEALTH ENTERTAINMENT MAGAZINE EDUCATION

THE LATEST

60m people displaced globally – UN
⌚ 15 mins ago

Court fails to give judgement in Fani-Kayode's case
⌚ 15 mins ago

Ramadan: Borno reviews Maiduguri curfew
⌚ 20 mins ago

Buhari's ramadan message
⌚ 2 hours ago

Nine killed in U.S church
⌚ 2 hours ago

Chad arrests five after Boko Haram bombings
⌚ 2 hours ago

Buhari's greets muslims for ramadan
⌚ 4 hours ago

Ikere royal families: no to imposition
⌚ 4 hours ago

'Lafarge Plc lost N2.5b to insurgency'
⌚ 5 hours ago

BPP, BPE bicker over N1.45b PHCN's liquidation contracts
⌚ 6 hours ago

Home » City Beats » Man 'stabbed' to death by cobblerAdvertisement

Man 'stabbed' to death by cobbler

Posted by: Our Reporter in City Beats ⌚ 2 days ago

An Ebute Meta Chief Magistrate's Court, Lagos, yesterday remanded a 21-year-old, Olalekan Aweda, in prison for allegedly stabbing a man to death with a dagger.

Mrs O.I. Adelaja, the Chief Magistrate, ordered that the accused should be remanded at Ikoyi Prisons for 30 days pending advice from the Director of Public Prosecutions (DPP).

The accused, a cobbler, is facing a two-count charge of conspiracy and murder.

Earlier, Prosecutor, Insp. Richard Odigie, told the court that the offences were committed on May 8 at about 10.00 p.m. at Joseph Street on Lagos Island.

He said the accused and the deceased 36-year-old Ganiu Bello had a misunderstanding and Aweda vowed to deal with Bello.

"On that day, Aweda ambushed Bello and upon sighting him, stabbed him with a dagger on his neck killing him instantly."

The case has been adjourned to July 8.

tweet

Previous: Deputy Speaker: N150b for National Assembly okay

Next: N3.5m prize for banking contest