Student charged with manslaughter

A STUDENT, Onyebuchi Nwaebonyi, 21, was yesterday arraigned before an Ebute Meta Chief Magistrate's Court in Lagos, for alleged manslaughter and reckless riding.

The accused, who resides at Fatiregun Street, Ebute Meta, is facing trial on a five-count charge bordering on reckless riding, manslaughter and obstructing the highway.

Prosecuting police Inspector Cousin Adams said the accused committed the offence last Thursday at Abule-Nla junction, on Apapa Road, Ebute Meta.

Adams alleged that the accused rode his motorcycle in a reckless manner which caused the death of one Garuba Wasiu, a pedestrian.

He said the offence contravened Sections 18, 19, and 20,

Vol. 45 of the Lagos State Traffic Law 2012.

Adams said the offence also contravened Section 31 of RTA Cap. 126 Vol. 4, Laws of Lagos State.

The accused pleaded not guilty.

Magistrate O.A. Omisore granted him N500,000 with two sureties in the like sum. He adjourned the case till September 15.
