

Suspected cult members shootpoly student dead

Posted By: Kunle AKINRINADE on: November 21, 2015 In: News No Comments

A polytechnic student in Abeokuta, Ogun State has been shot dead by members of a rival cult group in Abeokuta, Ogun State.

Sources said the incident occurred penultimate Tuesday minutes after the student, identified simply as Seun, wrote his final year examination.

The late Seun was said to have been felled by bullets during a shootout between two rival cult gangs in Onikolobo area of the Ogun State capital.

He was alleged to have led the members of a cult known as Buccaneers in the violent confrontation.

The late Seun, popularly called Nigga, was said to have led his group on a reprisal against members of another unidentified cult group when he met his untimely death.

---

A source who spoke in confidence said: “Seun and his men wanted to avenge the death of another member of their group who was recently killed by a rival cult group.

“They stormed the Onikolobo area on a revenge mission and engaged their rivals in a shootout during which Seun was killed.”

He was said to be a final year Marketing student of the polytechnic.

A source who did not want her name in print gave a graphic account of how Seun was killed, saying: “His colleagues abandoned him when members of the rival cult started raining bullets on him.

“Apparently, he had fortified himself with charms because bullets could not penetrate his body until his attackers resorted to stoning him before they eventually shot him dead.

“He was said to have foretold his death shortly before he left with his lieutenants, saying that he might not return alive from the ungodly mission.

“The shootout lasted one hour as everyone in the neighbourhood scampered into safety.”

The spokesman of the Ogun Police Command, Mr Muyiwa Adejobi, did not respond to our correspondent’s enquiries press time.

How A Lagos Factory Worker Went Against All Odds To Breakthrough From A Business Everybody Thinks Is Only Meant For The Rich Read His Story Here...

3 SIMPLE STEPS TO EARN EXTRA N50,000 FROM YOUR FACEBOOK MONTHLY...CLICK HERE