Gang kills student

From Damisi Ojo, Akure

A FINAL-year student of the Adekunle Ajasin University, Akungba-Akoko (AAUA), Olumuyiwa Ewarawon, has been killed by some members of a paramilitary organisation in the university.

The Psychology student and only son of his aged mother lived in a private hostel outside campus.

He was reportedly attacked by suspected members of the Cadets.

The "Cadets" were allegedly led by Adeola Adedoyin, a student of the Philosophy Department.

In a petition to the Police commissioner, Olumuyiwa's dad Chief Goodluck Ewarawon alleged that he was attacked in his room at Shanghai Hostel on November 29 by seven Cadets.

The petition said: "The assailants broke into Olumuyiwa's room while he was asleep and attacked him. He was brutalised and bruised and he fell into a coma."

"They dumped his body at the General Hospital Iwaroka-Akoko and we learnt about it three days later."

"We took him to the Trauma Centre, Ondo, and were referred to the Obafemi Awolowo University Teaching Hospital (OAUTH), Ile-Ife. Olumuyiwa died on December 6."

"We urge the commissioner to investigate the murder."
