

Teenager kills retired headmistress in Edo

Share

131

Tweet

0

A teenager, who has been on the wanted list of the Nigeria Police as a serial killer, Happy Agbangbanyan, has killed a retired headmistress, identified as Clara Uwaifo.

Clara, aged 65, was shot dead in front of her residence at 27, Oviawe Street, off Upper Siluko road, Ogida, Benin-City, at about 3pm.

She was said to be returning from an hospital where she went to see her daughter when she was killed.

Late Clara retired last year from Uwelu Primary School in Ikpoba Okha Local Government.

Her grand-daughter, who claimed to have witnessed the killing, said she saw the suspect following her grandmother as she approached their residence.

She stated that the suspect pulled out a gun from his trousers and shot at the woman from behind, just as she made a move to collect a bag from her grandmother,

Some family members said the deceased family has been at logger heads with the suspect's family for many years.