Four months after, operatives of Ogun Police Command have arrested a 35-year-old man, Nafiu Kelani, who allegedly killed his friend simply identified as Jimoh with a shovel during a scuffle.

The suspect committed the offence on December 3, 2015 in the Odeda area of Abeokuta, Ogun State.

He was said to have immediately fled to Igbogila in Yewa North Local Government Area, where he was eventually arrested.

It was learnt that the suspect and his deceased friend broke into a fight following a disagreement over an undisclosed amount of money.

He was subsequently moved to the State Criminal Investigation Department (SCID), Eleweran, Abeokuta, where he was paraded last week.

The suspect said he did not know that the scuffle would lead to the death of his friend.

He said that he used to live in Oke-Itoku area of Abeokuta until the unfortunate incident.

He said that the deceased had been his friend for over 17 years.

"Jimoh and I have been friends for more than 17 years and we worked together as sand digger. I did not know that the incident would lead to his death. In fact I was attacked by seven men during the scuffle that led to Jimoh's death."

"Since the unfortunate incident, my family members have abandoned me to fate because I am being held for murder."

Our correspondent learnt that Kelani would be arraigned in court at the end of investigation.
