

Delta Arewa decries 'killings' by IPOB members

The Arewa community in Delta State has decried the killing of its members by alleged IPOB activists.

Chairman, Moslem Lawyers Association Mohammed Elunor, at a news conference yesterday in Asaba, said the community members now live in fear following persistent attacks by IPOB members.

Elunor said: "A group of IPOB members invaded our mosque at Cable Point, vandalised the mosque and threw the Koran into the drains.

"The group went ahead to destroy tricycles belonging to our members and killing two persons in the process. There have been incidences of killing earlier this year at Mile 5 Ugbolu/Asaba area and several others.

On April 16, a Fulani boy was killed at Ugbolu; his hands were tied to his back and his throat was slashed, while his remains were buried in a shallow grave. Another boy was killed in same circumstances."

He accused IPOB members of killing a Yoruba boy simply identified as Tunde, adding that the boy quarreled with an IPOB member and was taken away at night; he has not been seen since the incident happened two weeks back.

Elunor noted that despite repeated reports to security agencies, no arrest has been made, even when the training camps of IPOB members was known to security agencies.

He identified the training camp as Ugwu Nwosu in Mile 5 in Ugbolu, Oshimili North and Oneh Primary School in Asaba, as their meeting place.

"We have confidence in the security agents, but we want them to do more. We urge them to do better than what they are doing now."

Elunor debunked insinuations that the attacks may not be unconnected to the Fulani/pastoralists feud, adding that the attacks may be attributable to the inflammatory reports on Radio Biafra.

Amongst members of the Arewa community present were Seriki Hausa/Chairman Arewa Community, Delta State, Ibrahim Gero, Etsu Nupe Asaba, Idris Adamu Kuta, Chairman Arewa Traders Association, Adamu Musa Shuwa, among others
