“Based on the sensitivity of the case, it is difficult to grant bail to the accused. Bail will be at the discretion of the court.

“The case file should be documented and duplicated. A copy of it should be sent to the office of the Director of Public Prosecutions (DPPs) for advice,” he said.

Prosecuting Inspector George Nwosusaid the accused committed the offence on February 27, at his residence.

He said the accused unlawfully assaulted and caused the death of his neighbour, Mr EbukaAgbo, over an argument on a dead rat.

Nwosu said the accused and Agbo had an argument that emanated over a dead and smelling rat lying at the accused person’s verandah.

“The accused claimed that his neighbour, Agbo, threw the dead rat on his verandah.

“The accused ordered Agbo to pick the rat but he refused, claiming that he was not responsible for the act.

“With annoyance, the accused threw some punches at Agbo as well as hit him on the head with a big stone.
