Welder allegedly kills farmer in Kwara

Posted By: Adekunle Jimoh on: July 19, 2016 In: News No Comments

A welder, Segun Bamidele, at the weekend allegedly killed a farmer, Sunday Owolabi, on his farm at Rore in Irepodun Local Government Area of Kwara State.

It was gathered that Bamidele severed Owolabi’s head and attempted to sell it.

According to a source, Owolabi went to his farm on Saturday but never returned. His relatives got worried and a search was conducted. His headless body was discovered the next day on his farm.

“The suspect tried to sell the severed head to Aliyu, who turned him down. Aliyu reported to a community leader, who informed the village head.

“Upon interrogation, Bamidele confessed to have acted under the influence of alcohol.”
