

Suspected robber electrocuted in Kogi

Posted By: James Azania, Lokoja On: May 13, 2017 In: City Beats, News Update

1

Nemesis may have caught up with a suspected bandit who was electrocuted in Lokoja, Kogi State on Friday.

The suspect whose name could not be ascertained as of the time of filing this report was electrocuted on around the AIG Zone 8 area of Lokoja.

He reportedly met his death in an attempt to scale the wall of a targeted house, according to a resident of the area.

While police authorities could not confirm the incident, another resident who pleaded that his name not be mentioned, said some residents were alerted of the youngster's body stuck to an electrified fence.

The source added that power was put off before the lifeless body was brought down.