Armed robbers struck in Iwo, Osun State yesterday, killing four police men in a raid of banks near Bowen University, one of the foremost private universities in the country, owned by the Baptist Convention.

The robbers, who reportedly operated for about one hour, came in four vehicles, laid a siege to the financial institutions and carted away unspecified amount of cash at the bank branches.

It was learnt that they killed the policemen, who were protecting the banks in the process.

However, one of the bandits was killed by the police team.

so, two customers and a bank worker were among the injured.

was gathered that the robbery tok place shortly before 4.pm when the banks were unding off the day's operation.

e bandits reportedly used explosives to blow open the banks' security doors to gain access into the banking halls.

It was also learnt that the bandits had earlier stopped at Iwo Divisional Police Station and destroyed the Armoured Personnel Carrier (APC) in the premises.

It was learnt that Commissioner of Police Adeoye Olafimihan led a team of policemen to the scene of the robbery but police spokesperson Folasade Oloro, could not be reached to speak on the robbery.
