The Ekiti State Police Command has arrested a 29-year old murder suspect, Adeyemi Adewale and two accomplices, Messrs Adejumo Fatai, 46 and Abayomi Olubokun, 71, for allegedly plotting to forcibly take power from the Chairman of the National Union of Road Transport Workers in Ekiti, Mr. Clement Adekola.

Also paraded were 14 robbery suspects, among which were Ogunleye Shola, Adedayo Ebenezer, Lasisi Afees, Ojo Oba and Ojo Oluwafemi for allegedly invaded Oyan Orete farmstead in Ijan Ekiti, Gbonyin Local Government area of the State and killed one Ramon Olasunkanmi.

Addressing reporters in Ado Ekiti, Commissioner of Police, Abdullahi Chafe, disclosed that Adewale, who was allegedly planning to upstage the State's NURTW boss was arrested on August 12 during a stop and search operation by Special Anti-Robbery Squad (SARS).

Chafe added that materials recovered from him included two locally made pistols, a cut-to-size single barrel and three live cartridges.

“During investigation, the first suspect confessed that the weapons belong to some group of NURTW members who are planning to attack the current leadership of the union led by Adekola with a motive to take over the leadership of the union.

“Further investigations by SARS led to the arrest of two other suspects. Efforts are in progress to arrest others who are at large”, he said.

Another landmark achievement made by the command, according to Chafe was the arrest of a 35-year old Adeboye Adegbola Eletu for ritual and cultism and exhibits recovered from him included, artifacts and charms

He said the command has re-engineered the state community policing department by co-opting the traditional rulers, market men and women, eminent personalities, students, artisans and other stakeholders into it, in compliance with the directive of the Inspector General of Police, Mr Ibrahim Idris.
