Not fewer than eight security personal were killed Friday after a deadly Boko Haram attack on a military and police location in Rann, Kala Balge Local Government of Borno State.

Though there is no confirmation yet from the military and police authorities in Borno state, a senior security official told our correspondent that a doctor working with the UNICEF clinic, including other aid workers could have been killed in the attack.

The attack which was carried out by heavily armed Boko Haram terrorists also carted away with some military gun trucks.
