•IPOB seeks probe into killing of 'members'

There is tension among residents of Obiawon village in Ogwe Autonomous Community of Asa in Ukwa West Local Government Area of Abia State are living in fears, following the discovery of bodies of yet-to-be identified persons in a nearby forest.

The people expressed the fear that innocent residents might be arrested by security agencies who have been visiting the community since the residents discovered the bodies.

They urged appropriate authorities to avert an outbreak of epidemic in the agrarian community.

Efforts by our reporter to visit the scene of the discovery were unsuccessful.

Some resident, who did not want to be mentioned, told our reporter that apart from the bodies of four persons found in a section of the forest, the bodies of over 30 other persons were said to have been dumped in a ditch in another section of the forest.

A source, who claimed to have seen the bodies, said they had started decomposing, indicating that they might have been dumped in the last two weeks.

He added: "We are not at war with any community. Our people are farmers. We were shocked when we saw the bodies in a forest in the village. One wonders who took us unawares and dumped these bodies.

"We are confused. Something urgent should be done to avert an outbreak of disease in our community."

Also, the leadership of the Indigenous People of Biafra (IPOB) has condemned the killing and dumping of the body of the deceased persons in Abia community.

A statement yesterday by its spokesman, Emma Powerful, claimed that the bodies were those of the pro-Biafra members who were allegedly arrested and detained in various army camps across the state during the Operation Python Dance II in the Southeast.

It said: "The site of these decomposed bodies should be designated as an international crime scene and promptly investigated."

Efforts to reach the spokesman of the 14 Brigade command headquarters of the Army at Ohafia, Major Oyegoke Gbadamosi, were unsuccessful.

His number could not be reached last night.

But a source at the command debunked allegation, saying it was the figment of the pro-Biafra group's imagination.
