The police in Enugu have arrested three youths for allegedly killing a 105 years old, Chief Eze Nwah Onu.

The suspects, Onyeka Abugu, 22; Ogbonna Eze, 22, and Nnamdi Eze, 19, were said to have committed the offence at Ekposhi Umudioko, Ogurute in Igbo-Eze North local council.

The police spokesman Ebere Amaraizu saidý the assailants could not give any reason for their action.

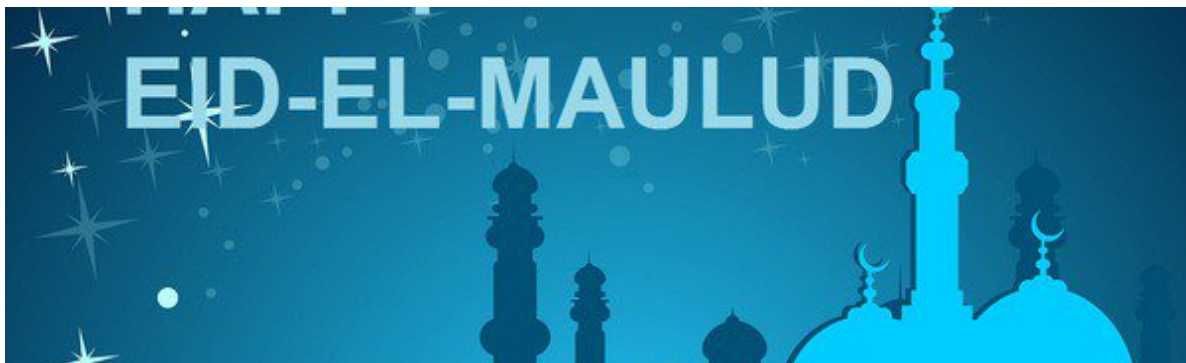

Amaraizu said : “It was gathered that on that fateful day the suspects allegedly conspired and strangled the deceased(to death) over a yet- to- be established issues and escaped. But through intelligence information, the suspects were promptly nabbed and they are now helping the(police) operatives in their investigations while the body of the deceased is now deposited in a hospital mortuary for medical attention.”
