

Cult war claims four lives in Rivers

Posted By: Rosemary Nwisi On: October 17, 2018 In: News, News Update

0

Suspected cultists have killed four people in Diobu, Port Harcourt, the Rivers State capital.

There was confusion in the area. Residents were thrown into mourning.

The incidents occurred between 4am on Monday and 8:15am yesterday.

Two persons, a woman and a middle-aged man, were reportedly killed around Mechanic garage, near St. Thomas Church, Ikoku junction, Mile II Diobu.

Two members of a vigilance group were murdered at Lumuba/Emenike and Nanka streets, all in Diobu.

A source said the woman, who was a gin seller, was shot dead during a gun battle by two cults.