

Police recover woman's body in Makurdi

BENUE Police Command yesterday recovered the body of a yet-to-be-identified middle-aged woman at Nyiman area of Makurdi.

Police spokesperson Catherine Anene said in Makurdi that the body was recovered yesterday.

She said the cause of her death still remained unknown, adding that an autopsy would be conducted.

Anene dismissed speculations on the social media that the victim was raped to death, saying the body had already been deposited at a mortuary.

The deceased was naked, which gave rise to speculation that she was raped to death.
