

Police arrest two for dumping murdered Facebook lover's body in bush

•Parade 108 suspects

March 14, 2020 in City Beats, News Update

0

Nwanosike Onu, Awka and Emma Elekwa, Onitsha

The police in Anambra State have arrested two suspects for allegedly killing a Facebook friend and dumping his body in a bush in Nanka, Orumba North Local Government Area of the State.

The two suspects were paraded on Friday at the state police headquarters alongside other suspected criminals by the Commissioner of Police, John Abang.

Also paraded yesterday, were over 100 others suspected to be cultists in Amawbia, Awka South Local Government Area of the state.

Abang, who spoke through the Command's spokesperson, Haruna Mohammed, said the suspects, Angus Chukwuebuka Nwankwo and Chidiebere Omeyi, lured the deceased, identified as Willswags to Nanka from Owerri, Imo State.

He said the suspects allegedly dumped the body of the deceased inside the bush in the area after robbing him of his valuables.

He said: "On the 9/3/2020 at about 3:45pm, following intelligence report, Puff Adder operatives in conjunction with the Command's Special Anti-Robbery Squad (SARS) arrested at Nanka, one Angus Chukwebuka Nwankwo, 30, and Chidiebere Omeyi, 20, respectively.

"Suspects had on 27/2/2020 lured a Facebook user simply identified as Willswags from Owerri in Imo State to Nanka. After robbing the victim of his belongings, suspects allegedly killed and dumped his body inside the bush at Nanka in Orumba North Local Government Area of Anambra State.