

Three killed in cult shootout in Delta

April 1, 2020 in City Beats, News Update

0

From Elo Edremoda, Warri

Three persons have reportedly died in a shootout by suspected cultists at a drinking bar in Agbarho, Ughelli North council area of Delta State.

Several others were said to have sustained varying degree of injuries and were being treated at an undisclosed hospital.

Read Also: Nine 'cultists' remanded at Kirikiri

The Nation learnt that several youths had gathered on Sunday evening to celebrate the birthday of a young lady at the bar.

But while the celebration was ongoing, four unidentified boys stormed the bar with guns and opened fire on the group, including the birthday girl, who was reportedly shot in both legs.

Three victims of the attack were reported to have died at the scene of the incident, while others who sustained wounds, were rushed to a hospital.

Previous Post

Pan Marine acquires majority stake in Golden Guinea Breweries

Next Post

Culture enthusiasts decry decline in Yoruba Language

Discussion about this post