

Five killed in Bayelsa cult clash

June 11, 2020 in City Beats, News Update

0

Simon Utebor, Yenagoa

A BLOODY clash between two rival cult groups, Icelanders and Bobos, in Amarata area of Yenagoa, the Bayelsa State capital, has claimed the lives of five persons.

Residents have been lamenting the incessant cult wars in the state capital lately.

Residents said the clashes have defied all peacemaking efforts by the state government.

A teenager, who was among those killed, was shot in the head, it was gathered.

Police spokesman Asinin Butswat confirmed the clash, but said two persons died.

Previous Post

IPC condemns police harassment of journalists in Delta

Next Post

Senate setting right tone under Lawan

Discussion about this post