A woman identified as Cynthia Obieshi was found dead clad in her undies on Sunday morning in a private hostel room between Nekede and Ihiagwa communities in Owerri West council of Imo State.

Also found dead in the kitchen was a man, Samuel Ezeji, dressed only in boxer shorts.

A source said the man came in on Saturday night with the lady.

Police said they saw a foamy substance in her mouth when they forced the door open upon receiving a call that “some people had a problem here”.

The hostel is rented mostly by students of Federal Polytechnic Nekede, it was said.

Police confirmed the incident, adding that the couple may have ingested a hard drug.
