The statement said: "The Police, Army and Air Force were alerted and they blocked possible escape routes.

"Consequently, the teams ambushed the hoodlums between Ummadau and Kwayawa villages and engaged them in a fierce gun duel. During the exchange of gunshots, six bandits were killed.

"All the 23 kidnapped victims were rescued. Twenty-three cows, 20 sheep, 31 goats, 12 motorcycles and one G3 rifle were recovered. "Search parties are still combing the area to arrest more suspected bandits and/or recover their bodies."
