The Priest-in-charge of the St. Paul's Anglican Church, Ariaria in Abia North Local Government Area, Archdeacon Julius Dike, has been found dead with his wife and house help.

His wife, Agnes, was said to be a staff of the Aba South Local Government Area while the house help was said to be a relation of the wife.

Sources in the area told The Nation the priest retired to bed with the wife and house help after a crusade on Monday night without any sign of sickness.

It was gathered some of the parishioners who attended the morning service became apprehensive when the priest did not come out to conduct service.

None of his family member was also around to explain why he wasn't seen yet.

Some members of the church were said to have gone to his apartment to inquire if all was well only to meet their doors locked.

No one responded to their calls, a development sources said were not usual with the priest and the family.
