Man found dead on Warri road

From Elo Edremoda, Warri

THE body of an unidentified elderly man was found yesterday morning on Effurun-Sapele Road, Delta State.

The body was by the entrance of Urhobo College, Effurun in Uvwie council area. .

The Nation gathered that the man may have been killed by a hit-and-run motorist.

"From what we saw, it was like a Keke accident because broken windshield was on the floor. The body was covered."

When The Nation visited the scene, the deceased had been carried away.

A woman in the area, who spoke anonymously, told The Nation that they met the body of the deceased lying across the major road in the morning.

She stated that about 9am, a young lady, suspected to be the daughter of the deceased came to the scene, wailing.

"She was crying and said he left the house this morning. She later left and some people came later to carry the corpse to a morgue," the source disclosed.
