

Abia varsity student dies jogging

A STUDENT of Abia State University, Uturu simply identified as Ikenna has reportedly died in Aba while jogging.

The incident was said to have occurred at Brass Junction along Aba-Owerri Expressway.

It was not clear if Ikenna had underlying health challenges.

Sources said he slumped and died after probably a cardiac arrest.

He was said to have joined others at the popular Opobo Junction in the Ogbor Hill area of Ikot Ekpene Expressway to perform their routine Sunday exercise and never showed any sign of ill health.

He was reportedly on his way back with other joggers when he suddenly collapsed and died.

A source said Ikenna could have been saved if there were medical personnel around to administer first aid on him.

The Nation learnt that when Ikenna, in his early 30s, collapsed, his friends started pouring water on him with the hope that it will help him recover quickly.

Another version of the incident said he was rushed to a nearby hospital, adding that various health facilities refused to admit him.
