

Woman found dead, another missing in Delta

From Elo Edremoda, Warri

THE decomposing body of an unidentified lady has been found around the popular Federal University Junction on the East-West Road in Delta State.

The Nation gathered that the body was discovered on Wednesday evening inside a drainage connected to nearby Agbarho River.

A witness said the lady appeared to have been killed before being dumped in the drain.

Another witness claimed she may have been knocked down by a vehicle.

The deceased was seen lying face down in the drain in a video.

Another lady identified as Stephanie Solomon has been reported missing in Okumagba Avenue area of Warri South council area.

She was reportedly last seen after close of work on Monday.

A friend of hers simply identified as Godwin told The Nation that she was believed to have boarded a tricycle from her place of work but never made it home.

He said she usually closed from work place at a law firm around 4pm.

He said the matter had been reported at the 'B' Division police station in Warri.

Police spokesman confirmed the deceased lady's incident, but not that of Solomon.
