Police kill two in raid on kidnappers' den

TWO suspected kidnappers have been killed and another arrested as police early yesterday stormed a den at Ikorodu, Lagos.

The den said to be a forest at Imota Emuren, has been a notorious hideout for criminals who preyed on farmers in the area.

Also, police said they were on the trail of kidnappers of retired Air Vice Marshal (AVM) Sikiru • Oladimeji Smith, a former Chief of Logistics of the Nigerian Air Force (NAF), as well as those who abducted a prominent Redeemed Christian Church of God (RCCG) pastor and insurance broker on Monday.

Giving update on the incidents, Commissioner of Police (CP) Hakeem Odumosu, said some suspects were already being interrogated in connection with Smith's kidnap at Ajah, adding that detectives were currently investigating aspects of Smith's kidnap including the voice SOS that was sent out by his driver, Corporal Odiji.

"Some suspects are in our custody already," he said.

He refused to give further details with respect to those in custody or the cases, reminding the public that it may boomerang as the criminals also monitored news.
