

UNIJS student allegedly killed by suspected ritualist in Plateau

From Kolade Adeyemi, Jos

PLAATEAU State Police Command yesterday confirmed the killing of a 300-level student of the University of Jos, Jennifer Antony, by gunmen suspected to be ritualists in a hotel in Jos, the Plateau State capital.

Police Public Relations Officer (PPRO) Ubah Gabriel Ogaba, an Assistant Superintendent of Police (ASP), explained that the Command received a distress call in respect to the sad incidence and it swiftly went into action to unravel the perpetrators.

Late Jennifer was said to have been missing since December 30, 2021, and her corpse was discovered on January 1.

The deceased, according to information gathered, was a student of Special Education and Rehabilitation Sciences, University of Jos.

The killing is suspected to have been carried out by suspected ritualists, who allegedly drugged the victim before removing her eyes.

The incident allegedly occurred on January 1 in a yet-to-be-identified hotel along Zaria Road, Jos.

Ogaba said the Commissioner of Police has also held a meeting with all hotel operators in the state and introduced new techniques of identifying crimes around them.

The Commissioner of Police has also held a meeting with all hotel managers in the state and introduced a new way of identifying and tracking new crimes in the state.
