been killed by the fleeing bandits were later recovered by the troops.

Commissioner for Internal Security and Home Affairs, Samuel Aruwan confirmed this in a statement yesterday, saying that the government was informed of the development in feedback which captured the bravery exhibited by the troops in overpowering the bandits.

"The attackers made an attempt to infiltrate the location housing the troops. The vigilant troops in response engaged them in a fierce gun duel which lasted for over an hour. This resulted in the elimination of two of the terrorists, who was wearing military camouflage combat gear as can be seen in the attached photo," Aruwan said.
