Six persons were killed and seven others injured in an accident on the Ipetu-Ilesa Road, Osun State.

The accident, according to the Federal Road Safety Commission (FRSC), was caused by over speeding and dangerous driving.

FRSC spokesperson in the state, Agnes Ogungbemi, said the accident involved two commercial vehicles, a Toyota Sienna vehicle with registration number KTU896HX and an Opel with registration number GBA440XA.

She said: “The nature of the crash is multiple. Seven people were injured and six people killed. Seventeen people were involved but one of the passengers was not injured.

The injured victims were taken to Wesley Hospital, Ilesha, and bodies deposited at the same hospital morgue. Our men recovered N21, 900 that belongs to the driver of one of the vehicles. The money was handed over to the Nigeria Police Force in Ijebu Ijesa as their operatives towed the vehicles to their station.

“We also recovered the sum of N27, 171,400 from the scene which have been handed over to the victims’ family members.”
